

SLIM and OCET Sustainable Business Pau Hana Series

The Sustainable Living Institute of Maui (SLIM) and the Office of Continuing Education and Training (OCET) at UH Maui College are hosting a series of Pau Hana events for the Maui business community. Leaders in sustainability across Hawaii will present best practices and upcoming improvements in their respective fields with an emphasis on helping Maui businesses decrease their costs and increase resource-saving practices.

Upcoming Pau Hana Events

June 30: Smart Grids and Maui's Energy Future

Dr. James "Jay" Griffin is a researcher at the Hawaii Natural Energy Institute of the University of Hawaii at Manoa. His research specializes in integration of renewable energy sources into energy systems and analysis of energy policy.

August 25: Innovative Water and Waste Operations for Small Businesses

Lauren Roth is the president and founder of Roth Environmental Design. She is also the Chair of the Water and Wastewater Sub-Committee for the Honolulu City and County Sustainable Building Task Force.

September 15: Energy Efficiency Approaches for Businesses

Shanah Trevenna is the Coordinator of Sustainable UH and Sustainable Saunders. She was named one of 5 people that will shape Hawaii in the next 50 years by Hawaii Business Magazine.

October 27: Waste Reduction and Resource Recovery for Businesses

John Harder was Kauai County's first Solid Waste Coordinator, helped set up the State's first Solid Waste program, and is the founder of Zero Waste Kauai.

November TBD: Geothermal Resource Development in Hawaii

Dr. Christopher Heaps is Director of Business Development at Ormat Technologies, where he is responsible for developing strategies for geothermal power project origination and development.
